OBITUARY

February 26, 1968 - February 2, 2021

Stacy Ulric Vaughan was born unto Charlie Vaughan Jr. and Evelyn Vaughan on February 26, 1968 at Harford Memorial Hospital in Havre de Grace, MD. The sixth of six children, Stacy was the baby. From birth he attended and was a member of St. James A.M.E. Church (Gravel Hill) in Havre de Grace, MD.

A member of the Young Generation later known as the New Generation. Stacy was blessed with a heavenly voice. He could sing. From the age of five whether he was singing “Don’t Let the Devil Ride” or as he matured in age, flowing with “It’s Your Season”, Stacy knew whose he was, how to praise and he did praise the Lord.

A lifetime Harford Countian, Stacy attended Meadowvale Elementary School, Havre de Grace Middle School and Havre de Grace Senior High School. Prior to his high school days, he played Park and Rec baseball in the position of catcher. The catcher has many responsibilities and is a part of the “battery” with the pitcher. The main job of the catcher is to catch pitches and to help call the game. The catcher is one of the most important players on defense as the catcher is involved in every play. Stacy became an All-Star Catcher at a young age and perhaps unbeknown to him, the tone was set. As he grew and matured, like the position of catcher, Stacy would continue to be an important player, an All Star and throughout his life he would help call the game.

A member of the Class of 1986, Stacy was an honor student, athlete, avid reader and an all-around nice guy. He loved football and played with passion and undeniable skill. During his Senior year in high school, his football helmet was adorned with stars. That spoke to his tackles and was a testament to his athleticism and his role in the Class of 1986 being the State Champions. Following high school, Stacy opted to work with Coles Cabinetry for a few years before deciding to follow his love of fixing. Known for taking things apart, finding out what was wrong and fixing it, he attended RETS Electronic School in Baltimore, MD where he excelled. Following completion of RETS, he applied for and obtained a position at Xerox where he quickly became the “young” Service Technical Officer who got it fixed. The skilled easy-going Tech who up until the time of his death worked at Xerox compiling over 30 years of dedicated service.

His life resembled his high school motto “Enter to Learn – Leave to Serve”. His was a life of service. He somehow found time to help many and make persons feel special. Stacy coached, went to every one of his daughter’s softball games and watched his son bowl. He picked up a part time job at Home Depot in Sales (Doors and Windows) and still found time to be an “amazing husband”, “great Dad”, “good son”, “giving brother” and “faithful friend”. He made it a point to drop in, check in, call and see about his mother. He helped to take care of his father during a time of need and became his barber over the past year. Faithfully cutting his hair and trimming his beard while seeking to try and fix whatever might need fixing for them or others. Children flocked to him and loved his easy-going manner and playful spirit.

Over 35 years age he went on his first date with Michelle Christy who in later years would become his wife. On that first date they went bowling. Following that first date there were many more. Together they have two children, Davonte, a bowler and Kayla, a true Daddy’s girl. Family was important to Stacy and he spent quality time with his wife, son and daughter. His children were his pride and joy, and good food was one of his loves. Stacy loved to cook, and he and his daughter Kayla spent quality time in the kitchen or going to try something different to eat. He enjoyed traveling and he and his wife traveled alone at times, with their children and with family and friends. His favorite spot was Punta Cana Dominican Republic. Punta Cana, Dominican Republic. A gift from his wife, he loved to hit the road on his motorcycle and just ride. He enjoyed gospel music, Jazz and R&B. The Winans, Kim Waters and Kem were three of his favorite artists.

He leaves to cherish his memory his wife Michelle Christy-Vaughan; son, Davonte Vaughan; daughter, Kayla Vaughan; parents, Charlie Vaughan Jr. and Evelyn Vaughan; siblings, Charlie J. Vaughan (Pam), Evelyn Watson (Arthur), Christina Waters (Ron), Felix Vaughan (Gena) and Timothy Vaughan; sisters-in-law, Shelia Taylor (Maxwell), Lisa Thompson (Terrance), Stephanie Johnson (Jerome); uncles, Thomas Vaughan, Alton Vaughan, Theodore Tann (Rev. Violet Hopkins-Tann), George Hill (Shirley); aunts, Anna Blount, Janie Boone, Dessie Vaughn, Nellie Vaughan, nephews, nieces, cousins a host of relatives and his special connect “Cousin Mel”

Where I Carry You

I will know you in the sun, the hazy heat of summer that warms my skin, melts rainbow-colored popsicles into children’s sticky hands
The crystalline rays reflecting glittering sparkles in the crunch hardened snow I will know you in the dark,
The shadows that stretch and contort, secretly enveloping my every step,
The endless depth of night that whispers to me as I sleep like moss on to a stone, I will know you in a song
The buzzing hum behind the shy softness of my smile, a half-remembered tune
The cascading crescendo that vibrates the very edge of the air as it climbs
I will know you in silence
The quiet place where I look to find you, reaching out to catch a blurred after image
The syrupy slow hush of early morning as the faintest stars disappears in the light, I will know you in my tears
the gritted teeth and hidden despair that keeps me company in my silent loneliness
The wail that cuts right through, the aching hollow in me that is in the shape of you
I will know you in my laughter
The nervous giggles that escape, floating like soapy bubbles, buoyant and ephemeral
The booming rush that bursts out and warms me as I shake apart with glee
I will know you in my heart, for in my heart is where I carry you.

By Jade Vaughan (Stacy’s niece)

Moments of Reflections

Thanks for the Memories

I Live On

*Whenever you are missing me look up to heaven's skies.
I'm the twinkle in the stars, I'm the sunrise
I'm a raindrop and a rainbow.
I'm the glisten on the snow.
Everywhere you go just know
I'm the sun that's shining down
I'm the laughter that's around.
I'm the music that you hear.
I'm the one who dries your tears.
I'm the reason have no fear.
I'm the one who's always near.
I'm the ocean's wave of blue.
Cause I live on, love you*
