As the cotton white clouds slowly float among the ocean blue sky, and the wind blows

I hear the sound of your precious voice in my ears, Strong and Passionate with Harmony, my heart began to beat at the pace of your love Which sends a deep affection of peace to my soul I mourn in happiness and cry for all you have accomplished

As a vision of your beautiful face appears in my eyes I began to smile

While tears of joy fall down my cheeks Two rivers of life are created anointed by your spirits

You are the Angel of my Life
You are the Wisdom to my Understanding You are the Soul to my Strength

Most of all the Heart to my Love You may be gone in the flesh but you will forever remain here Spiritually

As the strong Dominic woman of many Elements

You were more than just a person,
You were a Heavenly Blessing

You showed us all that fighting to the end and never giving up is Necessary

Now spread your wings and enjoy the Peace of the Heavenly Kingdom

As we remain strong, with all your love in our hearts Ease your mind and rest your soul

Until we meet again Grandma you are loved,
now until forever.
