

A Letter from Mom

The day I found out I was pregnant with you was one of the best days of my life. I had finally gotten my son. Giving birth to you was challenging because you were such a big baby, but you were worth the pain. I instantly fell in love with you. And when you made me a grandmother early, I was excited you gave me my first grandchild. When you got your first job, I was proud of you. You were growing up and becoming a man. I can go on and on about all of your first things, but then the story will never end.

*They may have taken your life,
but never your legacy.
You will continue to live through us.
I love you my king*
