THE OBITUARY

Dorian Terrance Whittington was born August 6, 1977, to the proud parents of Nina Whittington and Manley Edwards, Sr., in Godfrey, Illinois.

Dorian was baptized at an early age in Toledo, Ohio. Dorian graduated from Scott High School and he participated in the Marching 100 Band. Dorian formed a dance group called Dangerous along with his cousins. He also formed the Master Dawgs dance team.

Dorian worked as a server for Zin Burger and Top Golf in Atlanta, Georgia. Dorian touched many lives with his unique personality. To know him, is to love him. His passion was music and dance. Dorian loved and adored his family.

On August 30, 2019, Dorian received his wings. He leaves to cherish his memories, his mother, Nina Whittington; his father, Manley Edwards, Sr.; his sons, Dorian Jr., Daijour; his granddaughter, Dashaunte Belcher; grandson, Dorian III; his sisters, Monique (Kandy) Robinson, Alexis Caldwell, Shaquitta Maple, Michella Edwards, and Tiffany Williams; his brothers, George Edwards, Manley Edwards, Jr., and Mykal Williams; his step-brother, Bishop Charles Allen; his step-sister, Deanna Allen. He adored his niece, Kaniyah Finley and his nephews, Kyreese Robinson and Kuronn Finley; his aunts and uncles; special aunt, Gwendolyn Allen; a tight group of cousins, and a host of relatives and friends.

Pain I Feel

*How can people be so evil
How can things go so wrong
One day He or She is here and
The next day They're gone*

*I trust in the Lord with all my heart
But the pain I'm feeling now
Is tearing me apart*

*Where did it go wrong
It wasn't just with Adam & Eve
When did people stop caring for each other
When did they stop wanting to believe*

*Evil is around
We just have to choose a
Higher power to put him down*

*It can't be with fighting
It can't be with guns
We all have to bow our heads
And bend our knees
And know God is the One*

*He will take away the hurt
He will take away the pain
He will allow us to love in peace
So we can be whole again*
