Dad

When the angels came to get you,
They took along a piece of us all.
So while you're looking down from heaven,
Don't let your teardrops fall.

'Cuz you raised us good, you raised us proud,
Our head will stay high,
Our hearts will ache, tears will fall,
But this is not good bye.

Your body may have left us,
Your spirit never will,
We are who we are because of you,
Our memories with you will never stay still.

Your legacy will go on forever
Through the children's actions, words and ways.
Your soft heart, strong will, and talents
You've passed to us along the way.

Dad, continue watching over us,
We will miss you night and day
But go now, Dad, to be with your parents,
We will meet you there someday.
