

"My Gale"

There is no single word that describes what you were. There is no single memory that I remember most. You were the example of a strong and loving woman. You were the best friend anyone could have. You touched many lives without effort, that's how special you were. You always stayed neutral while staying real. You were always showing love without a word or gesture. Time may keep us apart, but our bond will never be broken. You're with me until I am no longer. Be at peace, my beautiful angel. I pray that once you it to heaven, God will allow you to visit me. And when my time comes, I hope you're the first face I see on the way to glory. We shall sit next to each other again, my girl. I love you, my Gale, and I'll be seeing you.
