I Was Here

Rubies are often associated with wealth, nobility, purity, passion, and prosperity. Many ancient crowns were decorated with rubies because they represented good fortune and courage. Ruby's deep red color also has ties to love, passion, and raw emotion. Long ago, humans believed that rubies contained drops of Mother Earth's blood. Ruby is known as a protective guard, decreasing anxiety and self-doubt while encouraging to live fully and to embrace whatever happens, allowing you to see your strength and potential from your own heart. With all the great meanings of her name we are reminded by Proverbs 31:10. She is far more Precious than Jewels. If you were blessed to meet her God gifted you your own personal Ruby.

Ruby Jean Harrison was born May 10, 1950 to Jaycee Hunter and Mildred Jones Hunter in Blakely GA. She was the oldest child from her parents and additional siblings. Ruby moved to Florida when she was just 5 years old. Florida became Ruby's home and she decided to plant her roots there. No one could ever imagine how deep she planted the roots. As a young child Ruby decided to serve God with all she had and she served him till her last breath on September 14th, 2021. Ruby was known to have a beautiful voice by her church, family, and community and would sing backup for local singer Lorenzo and so many others and the church through her life. She gave birth to her first daughter in Jacksonville, FL and then while in Miami, FL birth to a second, once back in Jacksonville she was blessed with a third and fourth. God allowed her to be a mother to 2 additional girls and a Godson and an entire community. Ruby saw her community as a village and was able to instill and create an environment of love, family, and pride to all those that were connected to her. In addition to her physical home she served in the churches that she was apart of by being a multiple ministries such as intercessory prayer team, clothes and food ministry, feed the family, choir, children's ministry, children's praise team, and when no one was looking she would pack up what little she had and feed the homeless just to show them that God was still here. She was visible in her community schools volunteering at any opportunity given and year after year she teamed up with Christ the King Church to make sure every child in her neighborhood had a Christmas present. There is not enough time nor space to say all that she has done and those that she means so much to. God is perfect in all his ways and on May 10th 1950 he painted an image of wealth, nobility, purity, passion, prosperity, good fortune, courage, love, raw emotion, and an protective guard, and when he finished the angles said what shall you call it and he said Ruby. The hearts that she touch will be the proof that she leaves she was here.

Ruby's legacy will be carried by her daughters, Patrice Smith (Harper Smith), Judy Risher (Kelvin Risher), Candy Grimes (Rickey Grimes), Brandi Chapman (Dairell Chapman), Sabrina Lockhart and Sarina Renee; son/cousin, Edward Jones; godsons, Ernest Bah and Etienne Bizmurenyil; goddaughter, Angel Norris; siblings, Jackie, Willie, Shirley and Ellen; grandchildren, Jasmine, Marquis, Kristofur, Travon, Tyrez, Rickelle, Brianna, Dabrielle, Sa'mya, Dabrielle and Aisha; along with many sorrowing great-grandchildren, cousins, aunts, uncles, nephews, nieces, best friends and a host of friends and love ones.
